

ANTI-RACISM

Pied Piper Studios is an anti-racist organization. We are committed to investigating and discarding the ways in which dominant culture and systemic oppression operate in our studio. We seek to actively interrupt racism and we work together for racial equity.

Black lives matter. Equity and inclusion are regular and interwoven themes of our conversations in this space and in our communication with our local community outside these walls.

We support the work of Black, Brown, Indigenous, and Asian educators, content creators, and authors as part of our ongoing professional development, classroom experiences, and family support materials. We invest in businesses owned by those who are marginalized with a goal that 30% of our budget goes directly to support the Black community.

We know we will not always be perfect in our social and racial justice efforts, but we promise to take responsibility for our own discomfort, to be transparent about our mistakes, to repair harm we create, and to keep doing the work.
